Trafinz Safety Leadership Award

Raised Safety Platform and Upgrade to Signalised Intersection: Anglesea Street/Bryce Street, Hamilton – Hamilton City Council

An urban project that has demonstrated leadership through collaboration, open-mindedness and flexibility, thanks to a local government team who understood true costs and undertook serious detailed planning, a great communication plan and a delivery that has been a great result for all, while motivating staff from all parties to deliver for the communities they serve.

Excellent implementation and appropriate, on-time decision-making meant a to-programme full closure of this major urban intersection was undertaken successfully and on re-opening the project delivered separation for safety as well as improved performance and quality. This approach and the final outcome has national and local adoption capability for communities nationwide, demonstrating how to protect business performance and improved safety for all road users.
